The awarding of credit is forbidden if it causes the consumer to become overindebted (statutory information pursuant to Art 3 of the Swiss Federal Act against Unfair Competition [UWG]).

I request that the object named above be financed via an EasyKauf Contract and confirm that all of my details are correct. I furthermore acknowledge the following:
a) The EasyKauf Contract shall be reported to the Consumer Credit Information Office [IKO] pursuant to the statutory requirements. The applicant/buyer hereby authorises the seller to report the EasyKauf Contract to the Central Office for Credit Information [ZEK]. In particular, the type, amount and terms of the credit, the personal data of the applicant/buyer and any applicable payment defaults or improper use shall be reported. The Central Office for Credit Information is expressly permitted to make available this information to other members of the Central Office for Credit Information.
b) In connection with the EasyKauf application, the applicant/buyer has authorised the seller to collect any information that is necessary from third parties, particularly from the Central Office for Credit Information, authorities (e.g. debt enforcement and tax authorities, residents' registration office, guardianship authorities), credit agencies, intermediaries, employers and other suitable information centres, for a check of the provided information, a credit assessment as well as for the processing and handling of the EasyKauf Contract, which is hereby confirmed. The information to be collected may particularly include personal details, ability to pay and details on other liabilities of the applicant/buyer.
c) The applicant/buyer hereby agrees to the seller passing on the information obtained by it to a third party, either in Switzerland or abroad, for the purpose of checking the conclusion, maintenance and processing of the EasyKauf Contract, provided that the third party is obliged to maintain secrecy. The applicant/buyer is aware that his details may be transferred abroad and via the internet. The applicant/buyer consents to such data being transmitted and processed both in Switzerland and abroad.
d) The seller may outsource its services in part to third parties, particularly in the area of market research and the creation of customer profiles, the calculation of business-relevant risks related to EasyKauf, credits and the market as well as the administration of the contractual relationship (e.g. application and contract processing, correspondence, dunning notices and debt collection). The applicant/buyer understands that the seller may disclose and transfer this information to third parties or have it handled by such both in Switzerland and abroad for this purpose; the seller shall take suitable technical, organisational and contractual measures to ensure the integrity, confidentiality and availability of data. The applicant/buyer consents to the data collected by the seller in connection with the conclusion or processing of the contract supplied being processed and used for the Group's own marketing purposes and evaluations in Switzerland and abroad. The applicant/buyer further agrees that data arising as part of the business relationship may be used for the purpose of sending him information via post, e-mail or telephone (e.g. SMS). The applicant/buyer may prohibit the use of data for marketing purposes at any time by sending the seller a written request to this effect.
e) Insofar as the seller receives the EasyKauf application via a supplier or agent, the applicant/buyer authorises the seller to inform the supplier or the agent about the current contractual status, particularly with regards to payment defaults and book value.
If I have provided information above regarding my spouse, registered partner or cohabiting partner ("partner") or third parties living in the same household ("dependants"), I confirm that I have informed my partner or dependants of this application, the bank may verify the above information by making direct enquiries with my partner or dependants, and my partner or dependants agree that the bank may obtain information about him/her as described above (including conducting ZEK informative enquiries).
